Tweetup a 'polar' success

By Mark Kobayashi-Hillary on July 9, 2010 3:15 PM | No Comments | No TrackBacks

I just wanted to add a quick note on the blog to thank everyone who came out for the Ealing Tweetup last night. It was a great success and a demonstration of the power of Twitter to connect people together. In this case it was neighbours from west London, but it could easily have been people within the same organisation.

Thanks to 1e for keeping everyone lubricated and also ensuring there were plastic polar bears all over the pub. There is probably still one on the roof now.
